THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HOME AFFAIRS (SHRI SRIPRAKASH JAISWAL): (a) to (e) The Coordination Centre headed by the Union Home Secretary in its meeting on 5 August 2004 at New Delhi, reviewed the efforts and strategies adopted by naxal affected States in tackling naxalism. It was emphasized to have a co-ordinated approach to deal with the problem. The Governments of naxal affected States have been advised to study the Andhra Pradesh model of peace dialogue with the CPML-PW, carefully and take decisions on emulating it depending upon their assessment of its efficacy and the ground realities in their States. The States have also been asked to draw up and implement an action plan for removal of socio-cultural alienation of people in the affected areas and to ensure proper and full utilization of the funds available under various schemes like Security Related Expenditure (SRE), Backward Districts Initiative (BDI), Pradhan Mantri Gram Sadak Yojana (PMGSY) of the Government for tackling the problem.

Besides, the Coordination Centre reiterated its earlier decision to strengthen intelligence gathering and sharing mechanisms by the States and mount focused, coordinated and sustained intelligence based anti-naxalite operations keeping in view the ground situation in the States.
